
Requesting more info

Posted by jason7655 - 2007/09/10 11:11

If anyone has digital copies of worm books (pdf, etc.) could you send me a copy?
jcrider at gmail dot com.

I would love to find worms eat my garbage online to order the pdf but I see the other post where it doesn't seem to be out there.

=====

Re:Requesting more info

Posted by wellsworms - 2007/09/11 06:15

i have two digitized worm books. post your email address. B)walker said to another reader try these sources;;;Man's Worm Farm - <http://www.wormman.com/>
Offers composting worms, supplies, free bin plans, and information. Rising Mist Organic Farm - <http://www.wackyworldsof.com/>
Organic farm selling composting red worms, worm castings, soil amendments, and informative book on worm bins. VermiCo Earthworms and Castings - <http://vermico.com/>
Supplier of red worms, earthworm castings, bins, and supplies. Also has vermicomposter consultants. Happy D Ranch Worm Farm - <http://www.happydranch.com/>
Offers worms, equipment and materials, products. Also links and information. Worm World - <http://www.wormwrld.com>
Pennsylvania grower. Sales and information on red worms, worm castings, vermicomposting units and worm books. Marcia's Vermiculture Composting - <http://www.wormpoop.com/>
Sales of worms, bins and other equipment for vermiculture. Creekside Gardens - <http://www.wormlady.com>
Offers advice and sells red worms, perennial plants for ornamental landscape, culinary and medicinal herbs, and water garden plants. Magic Worm Ranch - <http://www.magicworms.com/>
Instructions for creating a worm-bin, FAQ, gardener tips, and composting products for sale. D & D Worm Ranch - <http://www.dndwormranch.com>
Literature, kits, and red worms for sale. Information for educators who would like to use vermicomposting in their classrooms. Unco Industries, Inc - <http://www.vermiculture.com>
Offers nightcrawlers, castings, and vermiculture training Uncle Jim's Worm Farm - <http://www.unclejim.com/>
Worm raising instructions, catalog of products, and discussion forum. Suza's Farm for Homeless Worms and Cats - <http://home.earthlink.net/~suzaplants>
Information on composting, soil, raising worms, roses, insects, gardening. Rivers Pacific Home Composting with Worms - <http://home.alphalink.com.au/~salo/rivers/>
Australian company offering a lot of good information about composting with worms. Vermitech - <http://www.vermitech.com>
Offers large-scale vermicomposting technology for processing sewage and similar organic waste. Just Worms - <http://www.homestead.com/wormseller/justworms.html>
Offers red manure worms for compost and bait. Arkansas. Three Trees Farm - Red Wigglers - <http://www.redwiggler.com>
Offers worms, worm castings, information, solar energy products, and consulting services. Vermi-Plex Inc. - <http://www.vermiplex.com>
Business opportunity information, worm growing incubators, geodesic dome greenhouse kits and hydroponic growing systems. Dort Worm Farm - <http://www.dortworms.com/>

Post edited by: wellsworms, at: 2007/09/11 06:23

Post edited by: wellsworms, at: 2007/09/11 06:26

=====

Re:Requesting more info

Posted by sandycandy - 2008/06/03 09:05

Thankful for that! I'm totally new in this topic. Like spending time at the outside and love the environment. Earthworms are my new passion.
Getting started reading! ;)

=====